

Enhance Your Personal Development Plan with Blue Line

Are you or your team in the process of creating your annual work plan? We are pleased to announce that you can add Blue Line modules and learning paths to your personal development plan as learning activities.

Staff

You are highly encouraged to use the Blue Line platform as a means to facilitate your personal development and the achievement of your objectives. Modules and learning paths on the Blue Line can be linked to goals in your workplan and as part of your personal development plan.

Supervisors

We would like to invite you to use the Blue Line platform as well and encourage staff members to include Blue Line modules in their development plans as a way to help them build new skills and learning habits and, in turn, strengthen our organizational learning culture.

Learning Resources at Your Fingertips

Choose from 40+ curated online modules on leadership, management, and innovation and build your own learning path based on your career needs, ambitions and interests.

Blue Line makes it easy to stick to your development goals throughout the year by enabling you to complete modules and earn certificates at your own pace, from anywhere in the world, with the support of advanced e-learning tools and peer-to-peer exchanges with fellow UN colleagues.

Sign up here

Log in here

You can find more information on the Blue Line here